

THE RAD NETWORK

“WE’RE SENTENCING YOU TO THE NINERS VS. RAIDERS!”

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY TO ENTER OR WIN.

1. CONTEST OVERVIEW

The RAD Network is giving one eligible listener two (2) tickets to the San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders game on Sunday, November 8, 2026, at Levi’s Stadium in Santa Clara, California, plus $500 cash.

The seats are field level near the 30-yard line. The two tickets have an estimated current secondary-market value exceeding $3,000; actual resale values may fluctuate.

To win, listeners must collect 22 individual words through clues provided by The RAD Network, arrange those words into a predetermined winning sentence, and submit the sentence at the designated time. This is a contest of accuracy and speed: the first eligible, correct submission received after the official announcement wins, subject to verification.

2. ELIGIBILITY

Contestants must be at least 18 years old; be legal residents of the United States, subject to any geographic restrictions published by The RAD Network; be registered members of the FREE membership website at www.theradnetwork.com; maintain valid contact information associated with their membership; and comply with these rules.

Employees of The RAD Network and its affiliated companies, and their immediate family or household members, are ineligible. No purchase or paid membership is required.

3. HOW THE CONTEST WORKS

Throughout the contest period, listeners should tune in every weekday to both America’s RADcast and The Rob & Steve Sports Show for clues directing them toward the discovery of individual words.

A total of 22 words will be revealed in random order—not in the order of the winning sentence. Contestants are responsible for collecting the words and arranging them into one complete, grammatically correct sentence.

The RAD Network will establish the winning sentence before the contest begins. Possessing all 22 words alone does not qualify an entry; the words must appear in the exact predetermined order.

If a scheduled live broadcast does not air, is interrupted, or is shortened, the predetermined winning sentence and its 22 words will remain unchanged. All clues will still be provided within the existing contest parameters through the programs identified above, including rescheduled or replacement broadcasts, before submissions open. The RAD Network will announce any replacement broadcast or revised clue schedule at www.theradnetwork.com. A missed or interrupted broadcast alone does not open submissions, waive any entry requirement, or change the winning sentence.

4. WHEN AND HOW TO SUBMIT

On MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 2026, during the LIVE America's RADcast broadcast from 7:00 AM to 10:00 AM Pacific Time, The RAD Network will announce when contestants may begin submitting their winning sentences.

DO NOT SUBMIT BEFORE THE OFFICIAL ON-AIR ANNOUNCEMENT. Any submission received before that announcement will be disqualified.

Once the announcement is made, eligible registered members may submit their completed 22-word sentence using the official contest submission method and instructions designated by The RAD Network. The Network will provide the submission instructions through its official channels.

The submission must be attributable to the contestant's registered RAD Network membership and contain all 22 required words in the correct order. The first qualifying submission received after the announcement wins, subject to verification.

If a disruption prevents the scheduled submission-opening announcement, submissions will remain closed until The RAD Network makes the official announcement during a rescheduled live broadcast. The revised date and time will be posted at www.theradnetwork.com before submissions open. All 22 word clues must be provided before that announcement. Except as expressly provided in Section 8, all other submission and winner-selection requirements remain unchanged.

5. HOW THE WINNER IS DETERMINED

The winning entry must be submitted by an eligible registered member, received after the official announcement, and contain all 22 required words in the exact predetermined order. Punctuation will not be a disqualifier if all 22 words appear in the correct order.

The earliest qualifying submission, as determined by the official receiving system's recorded receipt timestamp, wins. The time a contestant attempts to send or submit an entry does not control; the time it is received by the designated contest system controls.

In the event of a dispute, The RAD Network will determine the first valid qualifying entry based on available contest records, subject to applicable law.

6. PRIZE DETAILS

One (1) grand prize will be awarded: two (2) field-level tickets near the 30-yard line for the November 8, 2026, 49ers vs. Raiders game at Levi's Stadium, and $500 cash. The tickets' estimated current secondary-market value exceeds $3,000, although actual value may change.

The prize does not include transportation, lodging, parking, meals, or other expenses unless expressly stated by The RAD Network. Tickets are subject to venue and event policies. The winner and guest must comply with applicable venue requirements.

The prize is nontransferable and may not be exchanged for other items or cash in lieu of tickets, except at The RAD Network's discretion where permitted by law. The winner is responsible for applicable taxes.

7. WINNER NOTIFICATION AND VERIFICATION

The potential winner will be contacted using the contact information associated with their RAD Network membership. The potential winner may be required to verify identity and eligibility, confirm membership and contact information, complete applicable eligibility, liability, and tax documentation, and accept the prize by a deadline communicated by The RAD Network.

If the potential winner is ineligible, cannot be verified, fails to respond by the stated deadline, or declines the prize, The RAD Network may disqualify that entry and select the next earliest eligible submission containing the exact winning sentence.

8. ADDITIONAL CONTEST CONDITIONS

The RAD Network may disqualify any entrant who attempts to manipulate the contest, submit fraudulent entries, misrepresent their identity, interfere with the submission system, or violate these rules, subject to applicable law.

The RAD Network is not responsible for delayed, misdirected, blocked, incomplete, or undelivered submissions; internet or connectivity problems; system failures; or other circumstances outside its reasonable control.

If fraud, tampering, or technical failure compromises fair administration, The RAD Network may suspend the affected contest activity and take reasonable corrective action, including modifying the schedule or submission method or, if fair continuation is not reasonably possible, canceling the contest, subject to applicable law. Any change will be posted at www.theradnetwork.com. Decisions regarding eligibility, receipt timing, and verification will be made in accordance with these rules; a disruption will not authorize changing the predetermined winning sentence or replacing the accuracy-and-speed format with a random drawing.

Force majeure. To the extent permitted by applicable law, The RAD Network will not be responsible for a delay or failure to conduct a broadcast, administer the contest, or fulfill an affected prize component to the extent directly caused by circumstances beyond its reasonable control. These include severe weather; fire, flood, earthquake, or other natural disaster; power, internet, telecommunications, broadcast, streaming, equipment, or platform outages or failures; cyberattacks; public-health emergencies; governmental orders; war, terrorism, civil unrest, or labor disruptions; and NFL, team, or venue cancellation, postponement, relocation, or restrictions affecting the game. This provision does not excuse obligations that cannot lawfully be waived or losses caused by the Network's own negligence or willful misconduct.

The RAD Network will use reasonable efforts to reduce the disruption and resume fair administration. Ordinary missed or interrupted broadcasts will be handled under Section 3. If a covered event makes compliance with the existing schedule impossible, the Network may announce necessary schedule or procedural changes or suspend or cancel the contest, subject to applicable law. Any resumed contest will retain the same winning sentence, provide all 22 word clues before submissions open, and preserve valid entries and recorded receipt order to the extent reliable records permit. Material changes will be posted at www.theradnetwork.com before affected activities resume; any revised submission opening will also require the official live announcement described in Section 4.

If the football game is postponed or rescheduled, tickets remain subject to the issuer's and venue's policies. If it is canceled or the ticket prize cannot be fulfilled because of a covered event, The RAD Network may substitute a reasonably comparable prize of equal or greater value, subject to applicable law. The separately promised $500 cash award remains payable to a verified winner. No additional reimbursement for travel, lodging, or other expenses is included unless required by law.

9. PUBLICITY

By accepting the prize, the winner agrees, where permitted by law, that The RAD Network may announce their name and general location and use their name, voice, and likeness in connection with announcing and promoting the contest without additional compensation.

10. OFFICIAL RULES AND INFORMATION
